- oi and ou are two vowels that slide together. Say 'oy' and 'ow' and let them hear the slide.
- If they read ou as 'oo' (as in you), that's a real ou sound too. Say 'in this word it's ow'.
- Make it easier: Task 1 only.
- Make it harder: Write the task 4 sentence.

Stop if tense: Task 3 is a full night.

- Splitting into tens and ones makes big sums small. $53 + 21$: fifty and twenty, three and one.
- Adding the tens digit to the ones digit ($5 + 1$) is the mix-up. Ask 'is that a ten or a one?'
- Make it easier: One sum only.
- Make it harder: Try $38 + 14$. The ones make more than ten.

Stop if tense: Task 2 is the night.
